Koolance teamed up with a local VAR and abusness partner, Infortechnow, to build a killer rig that will really put the Exos-2 through its paces better then anything we could have thrown at it. So the box was HUGE, standing taller then my 3.5 yr old son and weighed twice as much as he does. The only thing that made it easier to carry was that it didn't wiggle, kick, and scream as I brought it into the home office/computer lab like Dylan would.

The Auras Shagon ARC-118 heatsink is built around four 6mm diameter copper heatpipes and a 50x100mm aluminum fin stack. The heatsink features an exposed heatpipe base and utilizes a single 2400-1000RPM 92mm PWM fan for all its cooling needs. Since this heatsink is equipped with a 92mm fan, noise levels tend to be moderate at stock speeds and whisper quiet at minimum RPM. Total heatsink foot print is 101x88mm, its weight is 460 grams.
